Dear Readers,

In August 2021, I started interacting with the students from Vidya School to create a forum to explore our voices. The first session that we took together was much tougher than I had anticipated because I felt like I was talking to a wall! I couldn't see any faces and for the most part, didn't hear any voices. However, as we began meeting regularly, the wall that existed between us started crumbling down. Soon, the initial trepidation gave way to weekly enthusiasm- I was no longer looking at muted mics and black screens.

After much effort, we have finally come out with the first edition of our Meri Awaaz newsletter. In this issue, you can read and explore the voices of the Vidya school students as they uncover the meaning of friendship through the power of the pen.

The Beauty of Friends

By Mousam

Healthy friends are those who help us in bad times and take us away from bad thinking. They always support us while we are fighting. They help us to reach our goals because they already know how to reach that point. When we are angry because of some study material, family problem etc. and we shout at them, even though it is not their mistake, they quietly listen to us and do not say anything. After some time, when we feel better, they explain to us what is good and what is bad.

What is Friendship?

By Amritesh

Friendship is all about the trust between two persons. It is very difficult to get a true friend but it is not impossible. Friendship plays an important role in a life. Friends help us to come out of difficult situations. They make us happy when we are sad about something.
